

Warranty

Budda will replace any defective electronics parts including transformers, circuit boards tubes, speakers, potentiometers, footswitch and electrical components that fail due to faulty wiring for one year from date of purchase.

If for some reason your Budda needs servicing please contact us with a preliminary trouble shooting session over the phone or via email. Our service department can be reached directly at 877-866-3439 or warranty@budda.com with a brief description of your problem.

If your product requires servicing, we will issue you a return authorization number with shipping instructions. We pay for shipping to and from the factory if the problem is due to a wiring defect fault. For all other problems, we pay shipping back to the customer.

Please pack your amplifier product with care to avoid further damage. We suggest that you use a bubble style wrap if sending the chassis by itself. Include paper product insulation around the chassis in the box you are shipping in. If you are sending the entire amplifier and it's enclosure, please keep all packing materials and the original box to ship your amp.

We are dedicated to building quality products that are trouble free and providing the highest standards of service to our customers.

Sincerely,
Budda Amplification
